Aug.-Sept.-Oct. 2010

2011 is only a few weeks ahead...the "Indy" Dealernews Motorcycle Trade Show is a few more weeks on, with the show we have the start of the years motorcycle business season.

The past 2+ years have not been good ones for the motorcycle trade. 2010 is ending in what looks like the bottom of the downturn...we all sure hope so...

Many retailers are running with their lowest inventory levels in years, so any sign of an upturn will mean a jump in sales, for aftermarket parts/accessories. Will you be in a position to pick up on early season sales?

Prices have been steady during the past couple of years due to overall economic slowdown. But, the last few months has started to show price increases from the Asian suppliers. The extra cost of port security, higher transportation and raw goods such as copper, steel, etc and the downward move of the U.S. dollar... all mean higher prices. EMGO has placed production runs on our volume...faster moving products. We will have shipments arriving in January, February and March. We are holding a lot of goods in Taiwan for our preseason drop shipment customers. Avoid paying higher prices, place a preseason order now.

We ask that you check your requirements if you have not yet placed your preseason order for Jan/Feb/Mar shipment... Please do it now. We are seeing more and more price increases coming thru each week. current prices will expire Dec.9, 2010. All orders after that day will not be placed until the proforma invoice with new prices is confirmed/signed. Place your order now, advise when you want the goods to arrive in your warehouse February or March.

NOTE: Chinese New Years holidays are the first week of February... so no shipments from Asia will be made February 01-11, 2011
